Ginger Blodgett

University of Utah
Cognition and Neural Science, Department of Psychology
2263 S Lake St. Unit 1, Salt Lake City, Utah 84106
ginger.blodgett@utah.edu
928-221-7375

Education

2024 – present

Doctoral Student
Cognition and Neural Science
University of Utah
Advisor: Monika Lohani, Ph.D.

2020 – 2024

B.S. in Psychology & B.S. in Program in the Environment
Language Science & Arts Honors
University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, MI
Cumulative GPA: 3.99, Major GPA: 4.0

Publications

Lohani, M., Janney, B., Wei, W., Zummo, L., & Blodgett, G. (in review). From Eco-consciousness to Apathy: The ECO-SHADOW Inventory to Assess Cognitive and Behavioral Affect Regulation and its Role in Climate Action. Discover Sustainability.

Awards/Grants

2023 Honors Summer Fellowship: awarded $7500 summer grant for thesis related costs
Honors Thesis Grant: awarded $200 for thesis related expenses
Excellence in Sustainability 2023: awarded for efforts in expanding practice of sustainability on campus.

Additional Research Experience

Senior Thesis: Disgust for Sustainable Food Alternatives: Psychological Barriers to Diet Transition
- Highest Honors Designation (awarded to top 1% of undergraduate theses in graduating class)

2022 – 2024 U-M Evolutionary Social Psychology Lab Research Assistant
- Collected, cleaned, and coded data under advisor Dr. Josh Ackerman

2023 Independent Field Research: Ecology Field Work in Longo Mai, Costa Rica
- Designed and conducted a study measuring edge effect in premontane moist forest to evaluate ecological health and diversity of forest patch.

Specialized Training and Skills

Training

Statistical Modeling and Data Visualization Using R

Intergroup Dialogue (Leadership development for diversity and inclusion initiatives)

Skills

Programming in R

IBM SPSS

Decision Trees in Python

Proficient in Spanish